MEDIA RELEASE DROUGHT PROJECTS GIVEN GO AHEAD

The first round of projects submitted by The Flinders Ranges Council as part of the $1m Commonwealth Drought Communities Programme have been approved.

Peter Slattery, Mayor of The Flinders Ranges Council said "We are thrilled to receive approval for the projects that have been submitted for the funding so far and are looking forward to seeing them come to fruition within the community and to have the community benefit from them."

The projects which have been approved for funding are:

- Drought Communities Facilitation Officer
- Hawker Community Gym Ablution and Storage Facilities
- Quorn Silo Digital Exhibition Project
- Quorn Airstrip Lighting Project
- Emergency Services and Council Water Sources
- Street scaping the Flinders Ranges Council Townships

With a total project value of over $600,000 these projects have various focus areas.

"The Drought Communities Facilitation Officer will work closely with community members to provide access to drought support information as well as play a key role in managing the other successful projects. The Silo Digital Exhibition Project is very exciting as it will be one of the first silo art digital projects on the Silo Art Trail aimed at attracting overnight visitors. The remaining projects have a community infrastructure and service focus."

The key focus of the Drought Communities Programme is to stimulate the economy of the communities that are in drought and to provide short term employment and contract opportunities for local and regional businesses and to improve community facilities.

Mayor Peter Slattery said, "We also want to acknowledge the great support we received in gaining access to the DCP funding from our Federal Member, Rowan Ramsey, who facilitated a meeting with Minister McKenzie so we could put our case; as well as the advocacy and lobbying efforts of RDA-FN and the Legatus Group of Councils. All this assisted in recognition of the impacts of the drought across our region and access to this program to assist local businesses and communities through this challenging period."

All projects are to be completed by 31 December 2019 with more information on the successful projects available from Council.

Federal Member for Grey Rowan Ramsey said "The Flinders Ranges Council, along with a couple of others were unfortunate to have missed out on this funding in the first round. I was very happy to campaign on their behalf and bring about this result."
